

Are you a community services or learning professional who is interested in exploring arts-based approaches to supporting victim-survivors with lived experiences of gendered violence?

You are warmly invited to a free Creative Networking Event for the Reclaiming My Place Healing & Recovery Project

Wednesday September 17th @ Raymond Terrace Bowling Club
We will be meeting in the Boardroom
(entry available from car park)
Drop in anytime between 2:30 PM – 4:30 PM
Feel free to stop by for a bit or stay for the whole event!

Reclaiming My Place (RMP) is an innovative arts-based program developed by the Centre of Excellence for Equity in Higher Education (CEEHE) at the University of Newcastle. RMP primarily engages with women who have lived experiences of gendered violence and stalled education histories and explores art making for mindfulness, relaxation and connection to lifelong learning.

Come and join in this free opportunity to:

- participate in creative activities that could be incorporated into your daily work
- share in afternoon tea and networking with like-minded Port Stephens professionals
- learn what our program research is telling us about the value of arts-based practice
- yarn with the project team
